

BILL

“Changes in Medicaid could result in an eventual annual reduction of $3.5M in reimbursement to Trigg County Hospital,” he said. “This assumes the same volumes and services as provided during 2024, but paid less for those services.” Clay Ahart, director of Provider Outreach and Community Relations for Jennie Stuart Health, said since the bill is still being evaluated, the full impact on healthcare systems and patients is not yet clear. “Like many healthcare providers, we are closely monitoring any legislation that could affect Medicare and Medicaid policies,” he said. FUTURE OF HEALTHCARE There were some delays last week when the Senate Parliamentarian told the Senate some provisions on Medicaid and Medicare could not be included as it was currently written. However, the Senate passed the “Big Beautiful Bill” on Tuesday after a 50-50 vote, with Vice President JD Vance breaking the tie. Kertesz said it is possible that a new congress, later on with a different political makeup, could expand healthcare. “We were on a good path of expanding health care in the county, so I hope we could get back to that,” she said. “It takes time and political will and pressure from voters to show that they want that.” To contact Jodi camp, email editor@kentuckynewera.com.
