

Brangers named Adair County basketball coach

Jordan Brangers never doubted his love for basketball — whether it was as a player, an instructor or as a coach.

Now, that passion has brought him to Adair County where he was named Friday as the new boys' head basketball coach. He will be one of many new faces for the two-time defending 5th Region Tournament champions.

"I'm very fortunate and blessed to have this opportunity at Adair County High School," he said. "There's been so much success these past few years, and they have a great culture and rich tradition."

Brangers, 30, played two years at North Hardin High School as a freshman and sophomore and then transferred to Louisville Eastern.

He will be one of several new faces on the Adair County court this year.

The Indians won the region title the last two seasons, going 59-14 over that stretch. He takes over an Adair County team that was senior-dominated during a 30-win season.

The Indians return just one of their top eight scorers in senior-to-be shooting guard Dawson Gilbert, who averaged 11.8 points a game and led the team with 83 made 3-pointers. He shot 44.9% from 3s, connecting on 83-of-185 attempts.

Brangers replaces Deron Breeze, who resigned a month ago. In 10 seasons, he led Adair to three 20th District titles, five 5th Region appearances and the two Sweet 16 berths.

"Coming off back-to-back region championships there's some added pressure, but that's the great thing about the process," said Brangers, who promises an up-tempo style of play. "Being able to develop, build chemistry and grind each and every day."

Brangers played professionally for several years in countries such as Mexico, Germany, Israel as well as with the Santa Cruz Warriors of the NBA's G League — an affiliate of the Golden State Warriors.

He previously spent time as an assistant coach at Bracken County High School and then was the girls' head coach at Morgan County High School for the 2023-24 season where his team went 11-19 and won the 62nd District Tournament title.

"I'm so fortunate I've been able to work with a lot of high-level athletes," he said. "The best thing is being able to pass down the knowledge and stuff I've learned going through college and the professional level and being able to watch players take things I've taught them and implement them in game situations."

UK's transfer portal players talk about championship

BY KEITH TAYLOR
KENTUCKY TODAY

Four of Kentucky's five incoming transfers got a glimpse of their future home last weekend.

Transfers Mohoumed Dioubate (Alabama), Jaland Lowe (Pittsburgh), Denzel Aberdeen (Florida) and Kam Williams (Tulane) made a visit to campus and came away impressed with the facilities and surroundings.

"Kentucky is different," Lowe said in a social media post. "It was a dream come true to be on campus this past weekend, knowing I can call this place home. The culture and fan base (are) one of the best in the world. All eyes on No. 9 BBN."

Lowe was Kentucky's first portal commitment and was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference performer last season. He averaged 16.8 points and 5.5 assists per game last year at Pittsburgh.

Kentucky coach Mark Pope said Lowe is "an incredibly explosive, playmaking, veteran point guard."

Dioubate added that he "had an amazing time this weekend in (Lexington)."

"The love and respect (were) surreal 100 percent," he said. "Can't wait to get it rocking, yes sir, BBN."

Dioubate averaged 7.2 points and 5.9 rebounds

He had a double-double with 18 points and 10 rebounds in Alabama's 90-81 win over Robert Morris in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament. Dioubate's performance displayed his full potential and he is known to provide a physical presence on the court.

Aberdeen also enjoyed his stop at Kentucky.

"Man, I love Kentucky," he said. "(I) had a great official visit in Lexington (and I) cannot wait to represent the university and its culture."

Aberdeen played three seasons at Florida and was the team's sixth man off the bench last year and was a key component in the Gators' national title run. He played in 83 games at Florida, averaging 5.1 points per game. Pope said Aberdeen is a "winner in every sense of the word."

"He has won at every level of basketball and that's all that he talks about," Pope said recently.

Williams also is anxious to join his future teammates this summer.

"The culture and love that Kentucky has for their players is very special and something that I will never take for granted," he said. "I was blessed to have my official visit, and honestly, cannot wait to suit up and play for all the fans. Can't wait to get to work."

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that in an April 30, 2025 Application, Kentucky Utilities Company ("KU") is seeking approval by the Kentucky Public Service Commission ("Commission") in Case No. 2025-00105, pursuant to Kentucky Revised Statute 278.183, of an amended compliance plan ("2025 Plan"). (Collectively, KU's Application and supporting testimony and exhibits are KU's "tariff filing.") If approved, KU will begin recovering capital costs associated with a new pollution control facility in the 2025 Plan under KU's existing Electric Rate Schedule ECR (also known as the Environmental Surcharge tariff) through an increase in the environmental surcharge on customers' bills beginning in December 2025.

KU filed an application with the Commission on February 28, 2025, in Case No. 2025-00045 seeking approval to construct a selective catalytic reduction system at the Ghent generating station to reduce nitrogen oxide (NOx) emissions, which are a precursor to ozone. In Case No. 2025-00105, KU is seeking an order approving the 2025 Plan to recover the costs of this new pollution control facility through its Environmental Surcharge tariff. This project will help ensure ongoing compliance with regulations issued under the federal Clean Air Act as amended, including the National Ambient Air Quality Standards for ozone.

The estimated total capital cost of this new pollution control facility is $152.3 million. Additionally, KU is requesting recovery of future incremental capital and operation and maintenance expenses associated with this new pollution control facility. KU is also asking to recover the cost of publishing this customer notice through the Environmental Surcharge over 12 months and to have Environmental Surcharge recovery of future Commission-approved administrative expenses, including customer notice costs.

Beginning in December 2025, the initial bill impact for KU's Group 1 customers is estimated to be a 0.01% increase with a maximum increase of 0.81% in 2029.
